INVESTIGATE THREE PLANE ACCIDENTS OCCURRING IN 4TH NAVAL DISTRICT YESTERDAY; BELIEVE 2 PILOTS DIED

One Craft Explodes High Over Area Near Doylestown and Crashes in Field—Body of Pilot Taken from Flaming Wreckage—Believe Pilot Lost in Ocean
Off Atlantic City.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—(INS)

Naval officials today were investigating three plane accidents which occurred in the fourth naval district yesterday.

One navy pilot was burned to death when his plane crashed 3½ miles southeast of Doylestown. The plane blazed fiercely for more than two hours before being extinguished by Warrington and Doylestown fire companies. Name of the pilot was withheld.

The navy plane was on a routine training flight from Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y., the navy said.

The other two accidents occurred near Atlantic City, N. J. One pilot was feared lost when he parachuted from his plane when it fell into the sea 21 miles off Atlantic City. No trace of the pilot was found by navy searching parties. The pilot's name was withheld.

Lt. (Jg.) C. E. Case, of Atlantic City, was uninjured when his plane made a forced landing on the beach near the Brigantine hotel.

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 15.—A navy plane on a routine training flight from Floyd Bennett Field exploded and crashed in flames three and one-half miles southeast of here at 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon, killing the pilot.

Fourth Naval District Public Relations officials withheld the name of the pilot, but the Navy men at the Willow Grove Naval Air Station, five miles south of the scene of the crash, who helped get the body out of the flaming wreckage, established from identification marks that the man was from Bennett Field.

Workers on their way home from the Brewster Aeronautical Corp. plant at Johnstown and the G. & A. Aircraft plant at Pottsville heard the explosion high overhead and saw the plane plow into a field. It pitched over by the nose and hurtled across a road leading to the Philadelphia-Doylestown highway until it came to a stop in another field.

FALLSINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winder, now living on the Parsons Farm, entertained the members of the Delaware Valley Grange, No. 1622, at their home.

Mrs. Walter Campbell is under observation in the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia.

Activities of Interest To All
In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

The Boy Scouts of the Morrisville Presbyterian Church, under direction of Coleman P. Morgan, will have the use of an office in the Oriole Building, down-town on Bridge street, Morrisville, on Saturday, to store and receive paper for their paper salvage drive.

All residents in town are asked to bring their papers to the above headquarters which has been donated by Assemblyman Thomas B. Stockman, on Saturday. For those people who are not able to deliver their paper, it has been announced by the committee, that if they call Morgan or Mayor Burgess Saturday morning, their papers will be called for.

The entire cooperation of the town is being urged by the scouts.

Perkasie's fire loss in 1943 was the lowest in years, according to the annual report submitted by Chief Henry Yoder at the January meeting of Perkasio Fire Company on Thursday evening. Chief Yoder places the borough fire loss at $500. The only fire in the borough that constituted a real threat was at the Strawser Hatchery, on north Fifth street, and here the blaze was conquered before great damage resulted. Fire damage at this place was slight, but water damage, together with the fire damage, amounted to more than $300. The only other fires in the borough where buildings were involved were two small outbuildings.

Declaring the night too beautiful to waste in sleeping, Cpl. Warren S. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Parker, of Doylestown, took time out to write his parents a letter, which gives a description of his surroundings on New Guinea.

Writing the letter while on the beach of one of the bays on New Guinea, Cpl. Parker said in part: "It is just impossible for you to imagine this beauty because it's just like a dream that will soon end and be gone forever."

"The full moon fades every now and then when a white, fluffy cloud passes under it, and each time it reappears brighter than ever before."

"The bay is as calm as the sea, and a light fog is beginning to settle on isolated spots. The distant mountain peaks on the other side of the bay are visible."

Farmers, However, Had Much Difficulty in Sowing Their Grain

PRUNING APPLE TREES

In spite of the fact that winter grain got started under rather unfavorable circumstances, according to County Agent William F. Greenawald, it is doing fairly well, and as yet has not been damaged because of the cold weather.

Farmers were greatly hampered in sowing their grain, first because of the very dry weather early in the season.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Will He Support Himself?

Washington, Jan. 13. IT IS easy to point out, as many are doing, that the "recommendations" in the President's message are mostly for steps that have been urged upon him almost from the beginning of the war. In fact, it can be truthfully said that the domestic situations which he now deplores are largely of his own creation; that the remedies he proposes are the ones he has consistently refused to apply; that he, himself, has been the chief obstacle to action along these lines.

FOR EXAMPLE, had he shown anything save disapproval, a national service act could have been passed two years ago. And, while he now appeals for a "realistic" tax law, it was his opposition that long ago prevented enactment of a general sales tax, which is the most realistic and needed of all. Finally, it is a little absurd for him to ask Congress to "transcend politics" when he has not transcended politics himself. All these things are true and they account largely for the lowered prestige of the President and the coolness with which Congress now regards his pleas.

BUT THERE is no use stressing these things now, though the self-righteousness with which the message reeks and the way in which he avoided frank presentation of the ugly labor facts are a temptation to indict him both for a lack of candor and a lack of courage. However, the important thing is that belatedly, with apparent earnestness, he is now urging a national service act and a realistic tax bill. On these two proposals he ought to have full support. Of course, it would have been better had he told Congress and the country that the reason he

Andalusia Exceeds Quota In Recent Drive

ANDALUSIA, Jan. 15.—Due to the epidemic of colds and the gripe during the recent weeks the United War Chest Campaign, originally planned to close December 15th, was continued throughout the holiday season and into the first two weeks of January, but the campaign was concluded during Christmas week with this section having reached the splendid total of 135 per cent of its quota. The sum received was $2,022.05, the quota being $1,500.

The Andalusia territory, under Mrs. James McCartney, district director, was designated as No. 148, and was one of five districts of section Northeast III. (Zone B), under the jurisdiction of Mrs. A. Mercer Biddle, area chairman.

District No. 148 was fully organized and ready to begin the solicitation several days before November 28th, the official opening day of the campaign, with the result that on the second day over 100 per cent of its quota had been subscribed. This attainment, instead of causing a lapse in the efforts of the captains of the teams, served as an incentive to greater endeavor.

This was the first district to reach 100 per cent, and was given special recognition early in the campaign by being awarded the Red Feather flag with letter "E" for excellence in achievement, and was also awarded an additional blue star the following day to indicate greatest percentage increase over previous reports. This flag is at present on display in the Andalusia post office.

It is noted that in 1942 there were 186 subscribers in Andalusia. In the campaign just closed there were 320 subscribers, an increase of 72 per cent over last year, representing in money an increase of 66 per cent over the previous year. The drive leaders credit the presentation of the aims of the campaign to the people of Andalusia by the corps of workers under leadership of team captains.

Miss Adele Biddle received donations of $687. Mrs. Dey Chapman's team turned in 104 subscriptions, totaling $196.25; Mrs. Morris Ingram turned in 58 subscriptions, $126.50; Mrs. Francis Rossbauer, 36 subscriptions, $102.50; Mrs. A. J. Keyser, 49 subscriptions, $40.70; Mrs. A. O. Larsen, 24 subscriptions, $32; Mrs. Harry Barnett, seven subscriptions, $16; Mrs. W. W. Wright, three subscriptions, $11; and Miss Ella Griffin, 13 subscriptions, $10.10. An "advance" gift of $800 was also received.

COUNTY TAX RATE TO BE INVITED TO AID IN REDUCED ONE-HALF MILL

Commissioners Make Decision After Examining Budget

TO BE FIXED 3½ MILLS

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 15.—It has been decided by the County Commissioners to reduce the county tax rate to 3½ mills, thus making the rate for Bucks County one of the lowest in Pennsylvania. The action, unofficially taken, followed a careful consideration of the budget as submitted by the county controller.

The rate for the county will, therefore, be three mills for county tax and one-half mill for institutional purposes.

Even before this step was taken by the new board of Commissioners, the tax rate of Bucks County, then four mills, as it has been for several years, was outstanding among the counties of the same class in Pennsylvania.

The reason the Commissioners have been able to take this step has, of course, been the businesslike management of the county's financial affairs under Republican administrations, and the resistance of the forces which would have brought the economic affairs of the county into as serious a financial tail-spin as were those of the federal government and many other county and state governments.

Certainly this is a record of which the people of the county can feel proud.

The new step in reducing the tax rate is another cause for relief, especially at this time when federal taxation has become so burdensome, not only to make it possible to carry on the war effort, but also to meet obligations piled up in an orgy of spending in the ten years before the war.

Before the tax rate can be officially fixed at 3½ mills, a half mill lower than before it will be necessary to meet the legal requirements.

A resolution must be adopted to that effect. Final action cannot be taken until next month.

Hunter Guard Force Is Presented With Guidon

EMILIE, Jan. 15.—In a brief but impressive ceremony, Col. T. J. Stillwell, district commander of the Third Service Command, presented a guidon to the guard force of the Hunter Manufacturing Corporation at the Hunter U. S. Navy Plant, here, yesterday. The guidon was recently awarded to the force for its high standard of efficiency.

In his remarks to the assembled guards and their guests, Col. Stillwell said: "The European war is in its victory phase now. When you took over your tasks, America was on the invasion time-table of Hitler. Now the war is in its offensive stage. We must remember it is everybody's war and the hardest days are ahead."

Turning to Francis B. Manchester, personal director of the three Hunter plants, under whose direct supervision the guard force is operated, he presented the beautiful green and gold guidon to him. In turn, Mr. Manchester presented it to Capt. Geoffrey P. Keebler, captain of the force, who officially gave it to the color guard.

In addition to the army officers who were present, the guests included: Commander Benjamin J. Lubelsky, chief of naval ordinance; Lieut. Gordon L. McWilliams, resident naval inspector at the Emilie plant; and Lieut. Ray Tritten, of the navy coast department.

The ceremonies, which were held on the spacious lawn at the Emilie plant, took place at four o'clock. Prior to the event the visiting army and navy officials were guests of Hunter officials and guard officers at a luncheon.

NAVY YARD WORK

Russell S. Herman, of Taft street, is anxiously awaiting the greeting today of his brother, Boatswain Mate 2/c Gilbert Herman, Jr., whom he has not seen for two years. The two are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Herman, of Taft street. Russell has been employed as a welder in the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, Honolulu, T. H., and Gilbert has been on duty with the navy. Russell arrived home last week, and will on Monday next commence working at the Philadelphia Navy Yard where he was previously employed, and Gilbert is expected home today.

The Russell Hermans are much thrilled with their life in Hawaii. Last March Mrs. Herman, the former Mary Ferguson, made the journey to the islands, and there became the bride of Mr. Herman. She likewise was employed at the Cedar street.

Philadelphia Threatened With Epidemic

Philadelphia.—Health officials today scored the strike of 3,000 city employees as trash and garbage continued to litter Philadelphia streets. Dr. Hubley R. Owen, former director of public health and now director of medical services for the board of education, asserted the Quaker City's population of two million is threatened with possible outbreaks of cerebro-spinal meningitis and a new epidemic of influenza by the 11-day accumulation of rubbish.

Meanwhile, the striking street cleaners, highway repairmen and water bureau workers, members of the Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL, were adamant in their demands for a 10-cent-an-hour wage boost. At a general meeting yesterday, the men voted down any compromise proposal that might be set forth by city council, and agreed to stay away from work until their full demands are met.

LABOR TURNOVER

A drive has begun to reduce the high rate of labor turnover—a rate so high that in some recorded instances plants have been forced to hire 17 employees to get a permanent personnel increase of three workers. The campaign has been undertaken in more than 3,000 war plants by the War Manpower Commission and war production committees, aided by labor-management volunteers.

Reasons for the labor turnover have been listed as desire for higher wages, unsatisfactory transportation, inadequate housing and recreational facilities, and wanderlust. Among women workers the high rate of turnover, according to a survey, is caused by a desire to join husbands in the service, too little time for shopping, anxiety over children, lack of sanitary facilities and promotional discrimination.

These, then, are the factors which the drive will seek to overcome or ameliorate as a means of producing a more stable employment force. Attempts will be made to smooth out the workers' living conditions and the transportation problem will be looked into by the plants.

Within the plants, employee morale will be strengthened by spreading out lunch hours, by establishing wider recreational facilities, by exhibiting motion pictures of war zones and by presenting war heroes who have returned home from action. The use of any or all of these means should help check the high rate of turnover which is beginning to cause concern.

In the case of some of the boys, reported to be making as high as $140 a week, employers might deliver their pay to their homes, thus relieving them of the burden of carrying it.

INVASION NEWS

Taking the view that war news is big news, and that those on the home front are entitled to be kept informed to the greatest possible extent compatible with safety, officials of the Office of War Information are asking that arrangements be made in advance for transmission of details of the forthcoming European invasion, as soon as that campaign is actually under way.

This is the position taken by George W. Healy, Jr., new head of the bureau of domestic news. He has just endorsed a similar statement by Palmer Hoyt, retiring domestic director, who had insisted that arrangements for news from the invasion of Western Europe should be built right into the battle plans. Mr. Hoyt told reporters he expected the invasion strategy would include means for accurate and swift transmission of news from the battle fronts.

Both the new and retiring head of the OWI's domestic news bureau insist the American people have strong eyes and good ears, and can take their news straight. Nor do they need it sugarcoated in order to hold up their morale.

That New York college professor who proclaimed that winter's back was broken should get on the New Deal payroll.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

is forced to plead for a national service act is because there have been more than 5,000 strikes in two years; that the "no-strike" pledges of the labor bosses are wholly ineffectual; that his labor policy has been a failure; that recent strike threats have increased the peril of inflation; that there are more strikes in the offing sure to prolong the war and cost American lives.

HE did not say any of these things, though they are true and he knows it. He did say that the War and Navy departments and the Maritime Commission consider national service an essential and that he agrees. On the tax bill he urged realism and nonpartisanship, but it would have been more effective if he had recognized that the Treasury's original bill was a political bill designed to remove taxes from some nine million voters—and if he had let it be known that he would no longer oppose a sales tax. Perhaps this is too much to expect from him, and the main thing is to further his larger recommendations anyhow—because they are sound and right.

NEVERTHELESS, this ought to be made clear—adoption of the recommendations depends largely upon Mr. Roosevelt himself. If, having thrown them into the lap of Congress, he takes the view that he has no further responsibility, it is perfectly clear that we will have neither a national service act nor a decent tax law. On the other hand, if Mr. Roosevelt backs up his message with the full weight of his administration and his own personal strength, there is a very good chance of his whole program going through. In the New Deal days before the war, that was the way he operated. He not only made strong personal appeals to individual Congressional leaders but he sent Cabinet members and White House aides to the Capitol. He and they used every means of persuasion they had—which were many and potent.

IF THIS time he will do just half he did in his fight to pack the Supreme Court he almost surely will get through his chief recommendations. In his court fight he had a bad cause and public sentiment against him. In this case he has a good cause and public sentiment with him. In brief, if he supports his own proposals, as he has supported others, he will win, strikes will be rendered impossible and the war shortened; if he does not support them strongly; if he fails to follow through; if he says, in effect: "Oh well, I've made the recommendations—it's the fault of Congress if they do not go through"—then they will not go through and the country will have a right to question his sincerity. Those are the facts. As for Congress, that body might well recognize that to reject the President's request for a national service act is, as General Marshall said of the recent railroad and steel strikes, to give the enemy a propaganda weapon which, conceivably, may prolong the war.

BRISTOL HIGH WINS OVER DEAF QUINTET BY SCORE OF 41-32

Fisher and DiAngelo Spark Local Boys To Capture The Game

FISHER TALLIED 13

DiAngelo Hits the Cords for Four Field Goals and A Foul

(By T. M. Juno)

Sparked by "Chuck" Fisher and "Reds" DiAngelo, Bristol High snapped its losing streak of three games last night on the local floor by winning over the New Jersey School for the Deaf quintet. Final tabulations were: Bristol, 41; N. J. S. D., 32.

Fisher tallied 13 points by making five double-deckers and scoring twice from the foul line. DiAngelo hit the cords for four field goals and a foul. Fisher's scoring was done while within close range of the baskets, while DiAngelo's goals were set shots from behind the zone defense of the visitors.

Also remarkable in the local school's triumph was the shooting from the foul line. Eight attempts were made from the foul line, and of these the "Bunnies" dropped in seven. VanLenten missed the eighth try when the ball hit on the inside of the rim and then bounced on the outside.

The Deaf School boys used a zone defense throughout the game. This seemed to have Bristol baffled during the early part of the tilt, especially in the first five minutes of the game when the visiting team chalked up six points while Bristol did not come close to the invaders' basket.

But, once McDewitt broke the ice, Bristol started to tally, and managed to even the score, but not for long, for before the first period ended, the Jerseyites managed to hit the cords for another pair of goals to lead, 10-6, at the quarter-mark. It was Fisher who had deadlocked the count at 6-6 with his pair of field goals after VanLenten had dropped in a two-pointer. Bergano scored twice for the Deaf School in this period but it was goals by Ordell and Palovick which gave them the 10-6 lead.

The Bristol team kept pecking at the visitors' lead and it wasn't until midway in the second session that Coach Bartholomew's lads took the lead. After Angrisani had given the visitors a 12-6 lead, VanLenten scored from the field and Fisher followed with a foul shot to make the score 12-9. Oriola dribbled the length of the floor to score and then missed on the next attempt, but DiAngelo got the ball off the board and scored, to give Bristol a 13-12 lead which was never relinquished. Two more field goals by DiAngelo and a foul by Oriola enabled Bristol to have an 18-13 lead at half-time.

The Jersey School put on a little sport in the third period and shaved a Bristol lead from 24-13 to 26-18, and that represented the closest that the invaders came from reaching the Bristol total during the remainder of the tilt.

Angrisani and Ordell led the Trenton boys in scoring, with ten and nine points, respectively. The Deaf School students were poor shots from the foul mark, making but four in 18 tries.

Bristol will play George School this afternoon on the latter's floor, and will play at home on Tuesday night against Mt. Holly.

taken for thirty days after the estimate was submitted.

Just how wisely and efficiently the County Commissioners administered the affairs of the county is shown by the fact that the county balance is $152,231.49, while that of the institution district is $11,013.99.

The bonded debt of the county is but $64,000, $32,000 of which is due in March, 1947, and $32,000 due in March, 1952, and not callable before those dates.

Since there is a balance of $8,091.18 in the sinking fund, the debt is actually only $56,000.

FLEETWINGS MAKES 21 FIELD GOALS TO WIN THE GAME

Local Aircraft Five Defeats U. S. Naval Hospital, 51 to 37

A SOFT VICTORY

Hospital Team Staged A Trifle of A Rally, But Lost

Scoring twenty-one field goals, the Fleetwings Arrows swamped the U. S. Naval Hospital basketball team last night before a large crowd on the Bristol High School floor. Final score was 51-37.

It was a rather soft victory for the airplane workers who piled up a lead early in the contest and increased it as the game progressed. At one stage of the tilt, the Arrows were holding a 16-3 lead.

About half-time of the second half, the Naval Hospital five staged a trifle of a rally and cut the Arrows' lead from 36-21 to 38-29. But that was when Manager Eddie DeLaurier had benched most of his high scoring stars to give them a rest. When the lead was becoming uncomfortable, in went the high scorers and the score went to high proportions.

The Arrows introduced a new forward to the local fans in "Bunny" Romm, formerly of Bendix Aviation. "Bunny" immediately made good with the fans when the first three field goals he shot went through the hoop without touching the rim. He accounted for 4 field goals and a foul in the first half and was credited with two assists which enabled "Mike" Bloom to score a pair of goals. For his night's work, Romm tallied 15 points on six double-points and a trio of fouls.

This enabled him to divide scoring honors with "Mike" Bloom, lanky Fleetwings' center, who shook the nets with seven two-pointers and a foul. However, Bloom spent a great deal of his time under the basket of the Naval Hospital team, retrieving the ball on missed shots.

Gant and Almsworth were high scorers for the visiting five. Gant having nine points, one more than Almsworth. The Navy boys played hard basketball but just couldn't match the more experienced Fleetwings team.

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — The chain letter craze is reported back again in Pittsburgh. But in place of the grandiose promises of cash which the original letters held, the current form offers "The Luck of London," a special dispensation which may appear in any form. It was said to have been originated in London by an American Army officer. A letter received by Mrs. Catherine Rolewski directed her to "send the letter and four copies to people whom you wish good luck."

Freezing Weather Has Not Hurt Grain

Fall, and then because of the large amount of rain later in the season. At first it was impossible to plow the fields because they were too dry, and later they were unable to get on them because it was too wet. In spite of these adverse conditions, a majority of farmers finally succeeded in sowing their grain.

Cold weather as yet has not damaged the grain, and this is because there has been little intermittent freezing and thawing.

Because of the adverse weather conditions, a large number of farmers were unable to harvest their soy beans, and it is likely some will remain in the fields during the winter.

Mr. Greenawalt said truckers in the lower part of the county lost very few of their root crops in spite of the shortage of adult labor. Credit was given the school children for harvesting and trenching the root crops. During the week of November 15 about 1000 school children assisted for about four days in the harvesting of these crops.

Although the weather was not in their favor, most of the farmers got their corn crop harvested.

Fruit growers, especially those engaged in growing apples, are at present pruning their trees. Pruning of peach trees will begin in March. At that time they will be able to determine to what extent the trees were winter killed, and they will prune accordingly.

a time, and this—the lovely warm weather; the brilliant flowers, the tropical fruits—all made for a delightful stay. "And the moon seems so low, you would feel you could reach up and touch it," added Mrs. Herman in describing life in Hawaii.

The Hermans had the same "J" day each week, the "J" standing for the system which gave a different holiday each week, every eighth day. On those days they would enjoy the sights, listen to concerts by Hawaiian bands in the public parks, watch the surf board riders, go bathing, hiking, etc.

"Conditions are crowded," stated Mr. Herman. "So much so that it is necessary to make reservations for night clubs well in advance. All entertainments in the evening ended at nine so people could reach home by curfew time, 10 o'clock. But entertainment would start in the afternoon in order that more could be accommodated."

As in the United States the school students are aiding in harvesting the crops, picking pineapples, etc.; and also working in stores a few hours daily. The usual five-day week for most of the islanders has been increased to six, state the Hermans, while Navy Yard workers were employed for seven days, then had a free day.

The couple delight to tell of a semi-professional football league, all players of which go through the entire game bare-foot.
